Abstract/Abstract

This article was retracted because it contained a duplicate material that was originally published in Advances in Social Science, Education and Humanities Research, volume 214, 2nd International Conference on Educational Science (ICES 2018), pp. 223-230. The Editorial Board understands that this misconduct might have been unintentional. Based on a letter written by the first author, the author has never received an email notification regarding the publication of his article in the proceeding, so the author submits the article to the Jurnal Komunikasi Indonesia. However, as an accredited journal under the Ministry of Education and Culture, we are obliged to follow the existing protocols and decide to retract this article. The document and its content have been removed from Jurnal Komunikasi Indonesia, and reasonable effort should be made to remove all references to this article.
